

MILITIA INTEREST IN MATCH SHOOT

District Guardsmen to Compete with Cadets.

TEAM MEMBERS AT PRACTICE

First Battalion of Second Regiment Finishes Ordered Work on Range. Material Improvement Over Work of Last Year Is Shown—Await the New Regulations.

The rifle range on Congress Heights was the center of interest to the National Guard during the past week. The First Battalion, Second Regiment, has completed its ordered practice, and from early morning until dusk yesterday the range was crowded with guardsmen engaged in voluntary shooting.

Major James E. Bell, inspector general of rifle practice, and nine other officers who are members of the team that will represent the brigade in the coming match between the officers of the District National Guard and the Annapolis Cadets, practiced during the greater part of the day.

The match will be shot next Saturday on the Naval Academy range at Annapolis. The teams will be composed of twelve National Guard officers and twelve midshipmen.

Militia officers are much interested in the outcome of the match, and on Saturday morning a large number will accompany the team to Annapolis. General Harries and Col. Smiley, adjutant general, have been invited to accompany the team and probably will do so.

In addition to Maj. Bell, who is team captain, the officers practicing yesterday were Maj. William E. Harvey, Maj. Glendon B. Young, Capt. William W. Cookson, Capt. Alexander Summers, and Lieut. Thomas F. McNally. Ralph Alderman, Frank W. Holt, Charles M. Putnam, and Louis A. Clausen.

The match will consist of ten shots at 200 yards, slow fire, and ten at rapid fire, ten shots at 600 yards, and ten at 800 yards. There were also many Guardsmen practicing yesterday for the Senatorial trophy match which will be shot on May 23 and 24.

Improvement in Marksmanship.

Although the range has been open only one week, already there has been a marked improvement over the shooting of last year. Maj. Bell, who is in charge of the range, and is present each day, said last night that the results of the practice so far were gratifying.

"Maj. Stephen," he said, "brought more than a hundred men of his battalion out here, and in the four days of regular practice he qualified as marksmen twenty-three more men than during the entire season last year. Many of those who made the marksmen's score are now on their way to higher scores. About half a dozen already have qualified as sharpshooters and two as expert riflemen."

To-morrow night Companies E and F of the Second Regiment, will assemble at the Center Market Army and proceed to the rifle range to begin shooting Tuesday morning. Companies G and H and the men of the Signal Corps will leave Wednesday night and return Friday afternoon.

Await New Regulations.

Officers of the brigade are waiting eagerly for the publication of the new National Guard regulations, which are now passing back and forth "through military channels" from brigade headquarters to the division of militia affairs, the Chief of Staff, and the office of the Secretary of War. On Friday the regulations, as submitted by militia headquarters, were approved by the Assistant Secretary of War, with some slight alterations, and then referred back to the Chief of Staff. In a few days they will come back through the division of militia affairs to militia headquarters, with an endorsement containing the alterations suggested. These alterations apply only to the organization of the staff departments, and are suggested to make the organization conform accurately to that of the regular army. The suggested alterations will slightly decrease the number and rank of staff officers, but in all material matters the regulations already have received the approval of the War Department.

One important result of the new militia law is the attitude of headquarters toward discharging men. In the past, when a member of the Guard wished to withdraw from his company, he merely made a request for an honorable discharge "on his own application," which was usually forwarded to his commanding officer, when the discharge was granted by special order.

The present policy of headquarters is not to grant discharges for trivial reasons, and to investigate whatever reasons are advanced the applicant offers. These investigations frequently involve correspondence with the employer of the man who seeks the discharge. In the future, men enlisting in the Guard are supposed to undertake fully the extent of the obligations they assume, and while enlistment is voluntary, a discharge before the expiration of the term of enlistment will not be granted except for good and sufficient reasons, properly authenticated.

In this, as in other respects, the general tightening up of discipline and regulations all through the Guard is noticed. A spirit of seriousness seems to pervade the entire brigade, and the consciousness of opportunity for the enlisted men has taken hold of the more ambitious men in the ranks and started a healthy spirit of competition and rivalry.

Arrange for Encampment.

The War Department has now about completed arrangements for the coming encampments of the militia forces of the country.

The present policy of the War Department is to devote one year to the regular army and one year to the militia. The present is militia year, and the regular forces will be divided up into troops, batteries, and battalions and distributed through the country, at the different annual encampments of the militia. Next year will be the army year, when, as last year, the regular forces will be gathered together in large bodies and the militia troops assigned to the regular army encampments as auxiliary forces. An elaborate plan of joint army and militia coast defense exercises has been arranged for the coming summer, and the schedule of encampments will be announced in the near future.

Washington Will Speak.

Arrangements have been completed for the special lecture this afternoon at the Belasco Theater by Dr. Booker T. Washington in the interest of the colored men's branch of the Young Men's Christian Association. The theme will be "What the Y. M. C. A. movement means to the colored race." Exercises will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Commissioner Macfarland will preside.

No admission fee will be charged.

IN EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

At Madison Hall Seminary one festivity after another is marking the closing weeks of the school year. Last evening two of the girls, Misses Reed and Flint, entertained a party of students and a few friends at cards. "Five hundred" absorbed their interest until 10 o'clock, when light refreshments were served by the two young hostesses, who were chaperoned by Mrs. Winston.

Next Tuesday evening the Teacup Club, of the seminary, will give a dance from 8 until 10 o'clock in the evening. Misses Ruby Todd Thurmond and May Lee Rowan, both of Dallas, Tex., will receive.

The junior class of the seminary will entertain the seniors and a few outside guests May 19 at a banquet. Farewell speeches from the seniors and toasts from the juniors and members of the faculty will add interest to the occasion.

On the evening of May 24 a joint recital will be given by Mrs. Frank Maxwell, lyric soprano, and Miss Regina Elizabeth Winston, pianist. Mrs. Maxwell, a member of the faculty, is a pupil of William Shakespeare, of London, and was for several years soprano soloist at one of the most prominent Episcopal churches in London. Miss Winston is a sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston, principals of Madison Hall Seminary. She is a scholarship pupil of Ernest Hutcheson, of the Peabody Conservatory, and a musical treat may be expected. Following the musical, which will last an hour, there will be a reception tendered the seniors and their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Winston.

Students of Washington School for Boys, 301 Wisconsin avenue, have chartered a car for a trip to Baltimore on Wednesday next to be present at the second of a series of baseball games between the teams of the Washington School and the Country School, which is situated in Charles street avenue, extended, just outside of Baltimore. As the Washington boys carried off the honors in the first game, which was played here, there is much excitement among the students as to the outcome next Wednesday.

Students of the Washington School for Boys will give a circus party to see the Ringling Brothers' Circus to-morrow afternoon, accompanied by Mr. Woodward, of the faculty.

Next Friday evening a dance will be given by the students of the Washington School for Boys at Pearson House, the boarding department of the school. About twenty couples are expected to take part in the dancing.

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. Kingsley, the house mother of the Washington School, entertained at a tea at Pearson House, which was largely attended by young people from the city.

Mrs. Barbour Walker, of the Cathedral School for Girls, has issued invitations for a musical next Saturday evening. The program will be given by Miss Katherine Bogel, soprano; Mr. Anton Kaspar, violinist; and Miss Ellen Corbin and Mr. Edgar Priest, pianists, all members of the music faculty of the institution.

Some interesting statistics were included in the toast to Trinity College given by Mrs. Thomas H. Carter at the banquet of the Catholic Conversation Circle last Monday evening at the Shoreham. Mrs. Carter said, in part: "Trinity College, founded in 1857 by the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur, at the solicitation of Bishops Conaty and Garrigan, has had an enrollment to date 347 students. These young women represent twenty-six States, and two of them came from the province of New Brunswick, Canada. In 1905, when Trinity first opened its doors to students, twenty-two young women, who represented twelve different States, were enrolled. In 1904, the year in which the first degrees were conferred, the enrollment of students was eighty-two. The number of students registered in 1905-6 was 109, representing twenty-one States; total registration to date from the opening of the college, 347. Of the graduates thirty-six are engaged in teaching, four in literature and scientific work, twenty-two have established the true centers of civilization about their own families, and two have entered religious orders."

The Mount Vernon Seminary Glee Club, assisted by Anton Kaspar, violinist, and Harvey Murray, pianist, gave a delightful musical Friday evening in the hall of the seminary.

The members of the Glee Club are the Misses Ruth Anderson, Elizabeth Bellie, Jean Barklow, Geraldine Birdsell, Florence Brown, Helen Campbell, Mary Deiman, Annie Dugan, Dorothy Foster, Clarissa Hawkins, Elizabeth Helm, Mary Hunter, Alice Kelsey, Anna Kidder, Sylvia Newgass, May Noyes Norman, Elizabeth Patterson, Elizabeth Pickens, Ellen Pomroy, Ruth Porter, Lucy Erickson, Ruth Priest, Elaine Pujio, Marie Right, Malinda Robertson, Roberta Rouse, Alvia Sanders, Genevieve Spencer, Catherine Stacker, Gretchen Stearns, Frances Thompson, Jeanne Turner, Maudie Waggoner, Barbara Waldo. The same program will be repeated Monday evening at the seminary.

Students of Gonzaga College will present an adaptation of Shakespeare's farce, "The Comedy of Errors," Wednesday evening at Gonzaga Hall. The following are the cast of characters: Solinus, Duke of Ephesus; Joseph P. Madigan, Antipholus of Ephesus; L. Brison Norris; Antipholus of Syracuse; Frederick Donovan; Dromio of Ephesus; Sefton L. Darr; Dromio of Syracuse; Francis Igce; Antonio, a merchant; Joseph A. Fennell; Balchassar, a merchant; Rudolph J. Eichhorn; Philo, the father of Adriana; Joseph A. Genoa; Gallus, the brother of Adriana; Joseph Gormley; Aegon, the father of the antiphil; Herbert Andrew; Dr. Pinch; Joseph Gormley; Phaleria; Edward Waldo. The same program will be repeated Monday evening at the seminary.

An oratorical contest took place yesterday afternoon at Georgetown University. The contestants in the college proper were Daniel B. Murray, of the junior class; Edward Healy, sophomore; Joseph Wells, Vincent Dalley, and Harold Carter, freshmen. In the preparatory department there were eight contestants, including Eugene Carr, Edwin Darr, Frank Leary, Joseph O'Callaghan, Bernard Brady, William Cahill, Harry Nawn, and Albert Goldman. The successful contestants will not be known until commencement day, when gold medals will be awarded to the winners.

Monday, instead of Saturday, is the weekly holiday at the Colonial School for Girls. This day is often spent in making excursions and cross-country trips to points of interest about Washington. Last Monday a party of the students and teachers walked from Cabin John Bridge to Great Falls. After leaving the car at Cabin John Bridge, they walked to the third lock, following the towpath to Great Falls from that point. They reached Great Falls Hotel in time to drink ample justice to a dinner of spring chicken, returning in the cool of the evening to the school, delighted with their day's tramp and outing.

The students of the Laise-Phillips School, assisted by prominent local talent, will give a concert Tuesday evening at the residence of Mrs. J. Sylvester Phillips, 1821 Connecticut avenue, for the benefit of the Church of St. Michael and All Angels. The program, which is an elaborate one, will open with a cantata, "The Life of a Lent" (Ashford), by the ladies of the choir of St. Michael and All Angels Church, and the vocal class of the Laise-Phillips School. The incidental solos will be sustained by Mrs. Bowe, Mrs. Burnham, Mrs. White, Miss Margaret White, of the choir, and Misses Stewart and Dyer, of the school. The violin obligatos will be played by Mr. Frattley. The second part of the program will include a mezzo-soprano solo, "May Morning" (Denza), Mrs. May Young; reading, "Lake of Como" (Joquin Miller), Miss Juanita Miller, daughter of the poet; soprano solo, "Summer" (Chamblade), Miss Margaret Stewart; violin solos, "Minuet" (Beethoven), Mr. Charles M. Frattley; soprano solo, "Echo Song," from "Fanny Ruffes," Miss Nonie Torres, who has been singing this song in the opera last season; piano solo, "Wedding March," from "Midsommer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn), "Edith Chorus," Miss Ethel Tozier; cantata solo, "Mignon," Mrs. Julian Brylawski, who was formerly Miss Flora Bertelmer, and which is her first appearance since her marriage, two weeks ago; chorus, "Resurrexit" (Göthe), by the entire choir and school.

Dr. Ford, professor of hygiene at Johns Hopkins University, with a number of picked men from his class, were in Washington last week, and spent Friday in making a thorough examination of the Washington filtration plant. In his report on the matter he pronounced the plant one of the finest of its kind in the country, and after a thorough examination of the water pronounced it absolutely free from typhoid bacilli and otherwise excellent in condition. The students accompanying Dr. Ford were John Crawford, James Bruce, Lester Adams, Charles Sawyer, Bernard Sawyer, Edward Plass, John Bedinger, Hiram Gallaher, and Brawner Hetfield, the two last named A. B. men of the Catholic University.

The Sisters of Holy Cross Academy will entertain the students of the institution and a few friends this afternoon at Dumbarton, in the beautiful grounds surrounding the new school building.

Dr. Wood, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, will give a lecture to the students of Central High School on Wednesday morning in the assembly hall. The subject of the lecture will be "College athletics."

Founders' day usually is celebrated at Trinity College on May 1, but this year was deferred until May 4. The celebration began with a procession of the students, dressed in white and carrying huge bunches of flowers, which they laid at the foot of the Shrine of the Blessed Virgin, making a very bower of roses. This was followed by an illumination of the shrine and a May pole dance to the music of the college songs by the girls. In the evening a supper and dance were given in the gymnasium of the institution.

Wednesday the Phi Beta Sigma Literary Society held its regular meeting, when papers were read and discussed. May 19 the society will hold an informal reception, and the week following will hold a business meeting for the election of officers. The closing exercises of the college will begin Friday, May 23, with a concert, and will close June 1 with the conferring of degrees.

One of the most successful concerts, both from a musical and financial point of view, ever given in educational circles was heard at the Business High School Friday evening. The program was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Finckel, violinist and pianist; Mr. Fritz Mueller, cellist; Miss Alice Sherier, soprano; and Miss Sallie Mason, accompanist. The program included:

Miss Amy Simonds, mezzo-soprano; Mrs. Frank Byram, pianist, and Miss Elton Ronsaville, violinist, were heard at the "Franklin School Tuesday evening in joint recital. Mrs. Frank Byram opened the program with a prelude (Rachmaninoff) and value in A flat (Chopin), played in her usual satisfactory style. Miss Amy Simonds' mellow voice was heard in an aria from "Orpheus and Euridice" (Gluck) and "Convier Partir," from "The Daughter of the Regiment" (Donizetti), a group of English songs, "O That We Two Were Maying" and "The Necklace of Love" (Nevin), and "Spring Song" (Becker), and "Allah" and "The Danza" (Chadwick). Miss Elton Ronsaville gave two groups of violin solos, accompanied by Miss Virginia Rector at the piano. Her selections were "Allegro Risoluto" and "Canzonetta con Variazioni" (Schubert), "Romance" (Sinding), and "The Bee" (Schubert), and she gave them with much expression and artistic finish. Mrs. Frank Byram was also heard in "Liebestraum" (Liszt) and "Ungharisch" (Macdowell), and Otto Torney Simon played the accompaniments.

No Flowers Like Gude's Roses, Especially that peerless American Beauty—the prize winner wherever shown. 1214 F.

Funeral of Henri V. Lemenger. Funeral services for Henry V. Lemenger, late chief of the drafting section of the Reclamation Service, were held at his residence, 1844 Irving street, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. At the conclusion of the services the body was conveyed to Lee's undertaking establishment, where it was cremated. Pallbearers were J. H. Pellen, J. J. Fuller, J. C. Munford, P. A. Rensdown, C. A. M. Mery, and J. M. McKinney. A wife and three children survive.

Watch for a city—Randle Highland.

TEST WILL BE MADE

Right to Question Girl Wife Is an Issue.

MUCH INTEREST IN DECISION

District Attorney Baker Has Asked Justice Anderson to Compel Mrs. Beck to Aid Him in His Investigation Into the Shooting of Her Husband by Her Father.

The legal fraternity in Washington will await with interest the outcome of the hearing to be given District Attorney Baker by Justice Anderson to-morrow morning, when the question whether the former has a right to make Mrs. Irving W. Beck, the child-wife of the slain grocer, make a statement.

So far as is known, the right of the District attorney to require persons to make a statement before him has never been questioned in the District. T. C. Taylor, attorney for Albert Willard, father of the girl, has denied this right. Mr. Taylor, who will conduct the defense for Willard, claims that Mrs. Beck cannot be made to testify to anything that "might tend to disgrace her."

Willard, who is at present confined in the District jail awaiting the action of the grand jury, will probably base his defense on "desperation," according to those interested in his case.

It is said the father was brooding over the reports circulated about the neighborhood about his child and Beck, and when she left home with the grocer his frenzy culminated in the shooting on Thursday.

I. O. O. F. PLANS BIG CARNIVAL.

Many Novel Features Will Mark Fair During Week of May 17.

Arrangements are nearing completion for the big carnival to be held at Odd Fellows' Hall during the week beginning May 17, under the auspices of Canton Washington, No. 1, Patriarch Militant, I. O. O. F. The joint committees, composed of the chairmen of the various committees, and headed by Col. D. V. Chisholm, is aiming to make the carnival the most notable ever given by that canton.

Decorations, under the direction of Artist Leary, will be unique, and various amusements will engage the attention of visitors. The stage will be under the management of Wilfred Lawson, and a new cast will be provided each night.

Those in charge of the various booths and departments will be: Refreshments, Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Cuthbertson, assisted by a bevy of young women representing the various Rebecca lodges of the jurisdiction; chancing committee, Dr. T. J. Gates, chairman; museum, P. H. Leary; post-office, Postmaster Snooks, whose department will guarantee to deliver anything from a billiard ball to a Police court summons; miscellaneous articles, Chaplain Ernest.

Miss Lucille Fehl, the gifted gypsy queen, will be on hand to reveal the future to all who desire it.

John Chisholm is in charge of the dancing committee.

Will Become Head of College. Rev. Stephen M. Newman, who was for twenty-one years pastor of the First Congregational Church, will leave here in a short time for Kee Mar College, near Hagerstown, Md., of which he has been president. For the past two years he has been president of the Eastern College of Virginia, at Front Royal.
